

Game Landing Page Design

Auto-Battler with Inventory Management System

Project Overview

This document outlines the design specifications for a landing page for an auto-battler game that combines Backpack Brawl-style inventory management with Clicker Heroes-inspired progression systems. The game features grid-based backpack management, hero collection, and automated combat in a medieval fantasy setting.

*NOTE: For game visuals please refer to Backpack Brawl

Core Game Features to Highlight

Primary Mechanics

- Grid-Based Inventory Management: Spatial item placement with adjacency bonuses

- Hero Collection System: Multiple character classes (Berserker, Pyromancer, Reaper, Ranger)

- Automated Combat: Strategic setup followed by auto-battle execution

Progressive Upgrades: Hero Souls, Ancients, and Relics system

- Chest & Loot System: Random treasure spawns with tiered rewards

Unique Selling Points

- Strategic depth through item placement and synergies
- Long-term progression with prestige mechanics
- Multiple hero classes with distinct playstyles
- Rich crafting and upgrade systems

Landing Page Structure

1. Hero Section

1. Necromancer:

"Veyra the Deathweaver"

Lore:

Once a revered healer in the ruined city of Carth, Veyra earned the title "Deathweaver" after bargaining with shadows to save her people from a wasting plague. In the darkness beneath Carth's catacombs, she learned to commune with lost spirits, accepting the price of exile for forbidden magic. Now, she commands the silence of the grave, weaving spirits into armor and unleashing haunting curses upon her foes.

In-game Info:

- Class: Mage (Necromancer)
- Key Ability: Spectral Legion
Summon ghostly minions to overwhelm the enemy line; spirits drain stamina and shatter defenses.

- Synergy: Gains bonus damage when surrounded by artifact or dark magic items in the backpack.
 - Passive: Soul Siphon — Restores a portion of health for every enemy defeated by spirits.

2. Hunter:

"Lyra & Fen"

Lore:

In the wild glades of Evergreen, a young orphan girl named Lyra forged an unbreakable bond with a runt wolf she named Fen. Outcast and hunted, they survived by their wits, braving storms and stalkers alike. Fen is no ordinary wolf: awakened during a blood moon, he carries old forest magic in his bones. Side by side, Lyra and Fen outmaneuver their foes, the girl's cunning and the wolf's power blending into a force of nature.

In-game Info:

- Class: Ranger & Familiar
- Key Ability: Dual Strike
Lyra launches arrows while Fen lunges, dealing combo attacks with increased accuracy and critical hits if adjacent to agility items or animal tokens.

- Synergy: If the backpack contains consumables or forest runes, Fen grows stronger with every attack, occasionally stunning enemies.
 - Passive: Pack Bond — Each takes a portion of damage for the other, reducing total incoming damage.

3. Pyromancer:

"Ignis Emberborn"

Lore:

They say fire never asks for permission—neither does Ignis. Born in a volcanic outpost where the earth itself trembles, Ignis learned to shape flames from the flicker of candlelight to the fury of an inferno. His relentless pursuit of power once scorched an entire valley, leaving only blackened stone and whispers of revenge. Now, as a master Pyromancer, Ignis wields fire with reckless abandon, turning the tide of battle in a burning flash.

In-game Info:

- Class: Mage (Pyromancer)
- Key Ability: Inferno Pulse
Unleash a wave of fire across enemy ranks, burning armor and applying damage over time.

- Synergy: Adjacent potions or volatile items amplify his flame attacks, increasing area of effect.
- Passive: Fiery Vigor — Briefly gains speed and evasion after every three successful fire attacks.
